Disappointed over broken promise to pave Lotz Road last summer

I read that Lotz Road in Canton was going to be paved this past summer. I didn't see that happen. If fact, Lotz Road isn't paved. Just wondered who messed up?

Swistak denied free speech at Westland City Council meeting

Westland citizen Ms. Swistak was denied freedom of speech at the Nov. 5 public city council meeting.

Unless you say what they want to hear, you are jeered, heckled, the microphone is turned off, and you're not allowed to be able to speak for the full five minutes allowed for all Westland citizens.

In regards to police allegedly assaulting and battering women, apparently they have no respect for women, no conscience, and no remorse, and they cannot fess up and take the consequences. They hide behind a gun and a badge, how cowardly.

What is really happening in America with police who are supposed to protect and serve, not just send out election brochures?

Romulus reader jumps ship over our endorsement of Alan Lambert

I am canceling my subscription to the Romulus Roman — and I've subscribed for years — due to the fact that you would endorse a [disreputable] candidate, Alan Lambert. God help the city if he gets elected. [So did the voters — Ed.]

Caller suspects councilwoman's comments about her neighbor

I calling about Debbie Romak. At a Romulus City Council meeting she talked about Francis Guinn.

I'm a neighbor. From what I could tell, Debbie wasn't even on talking terms with her.

Actress pleads "not guilty" to drugs

Baywatch star, Yasmine Bleeth returned to Romulus last week to be arraigned on two counts of possession of cocaine and one count of operating a vehicle under the influence of narcotics.

The charges are the result of a traffic accident and arrest, and a subsequent search warrant executed on Ms. Bleeth's Romulus hotel room on September 13.

Bleeth crashed her rented car on eastbound I-94 near Middlebelt a day earlier according to police reports.

The actress, who most recently had a recurring role on "Nash Bridges" was found with syringes in her purse and cocaine in her car, said Romulus police.

Bleeth was with her fiancé, Paul Cerrito, who was a passenger in the car. The two had been visiting Cerrito's parents, owners of a Warren strip club, at the time of the September 11th catastrophe.

Cerrito, 31, was charged with one count of possession of cocaine and as a habitual offender-third offense.

He is currently being held in Oakland County Jail on other charges with an arraignment scheduled for this week.

Bleeth, 33, who plead not guilty to the charges, will be back in the Detroit area on November 30th, when she faces a hearing in Wayne County Circuit Court. She currently is in California on a $10,000 personal bond.

If convicted, Bleeth could face a maximum penalty of four years in prison and a $25,000 fine.

Councilman, airman share war experiences with Cory

As part of the Veteran's Day ceremonies, Cory Elementary invited Romulus Council President Randy Gear and Tuskegee Airman Alexander Jefferson to their experiences with the school.

Gear, who serves as assistant principal at the prestigious Bates Academy in Detroit, was able to share his sixteen years of U.S. Army experience with the students. He explained the requirements for the different uniform stripes, the seriousness of purpose required to serve in the army and how he initially joined the army.

Gear encouraged students to "do what your teacher tells you to do because the teacher can really help you."

He also talked about some of his sky jumping adventures and informed students that his unit from the Selfridge Air Force Base had been placed on alert status.

Lt. Col. USAF Ret. Jefferson is a Tuskegee Airmen alumnus who served in the famed "Red Tails" and was inducted into the Michigan Aviation Hall of Fame in 1995. He was able to use his 30 years as a Detroit Schools science teacher to hold the Cory students spellbound while described past experiences.

Jefferson gave a detailed accounting of how he had been shot down in Southern France while strafing radar stations on the questions about his imprisonment in the Stalag Luft and Stalag VIIA camps. Jefferson explained that, because of his rank, he was treated like a gentleman while he was under German detention.

Electrical dispute being blamed for terminal delay

Detroit Metro Airport's long-awaited mid-field terminal's opening has been delayed again. The terminal, originally expected to open on December 9, was backed-off to January 20, earlier in the year, but now will probably not open until spring of 2002.

Additional security requirements necessitated by September 11th, and an electrical dispute are being blamed for the delay.

The $1.2 billion project that when finished will encompass 2-million square feet, which is 1 1/2 times the size of the Great Lakes Crossing Shopping Center, is being eagerly anticipated by travelers.

On October 10, the project's principal electrical contractor, State Group, walked off the job-site in a disputed with the terminal's general contractor, Hunt

Construction.

In a lawsuit filed against Hunt last month, State Group claims electrical installation was delayed by five to eight months because Hunt failed to coordinate construction correctly.

The lawsuit further claimed that Hunt never adjusted the construction schedule even though delays in the erection of structural steel and the construction of exterior metal panels made it impossible for State to meet the schedule.

State walked-off the job, according to the lawsuit, because they were not being paid extra for the problems.

State Group is seeking reimbursement for costs above its $48.4 million contract.

State, from Toronto, is being replaced with four local electrical contractors.

Rev. Leroy Attles

Revival features author Attles

A revival featuring guest evangelist Rev. Dr. LeRoy Attles will take place on Nov. 25-27 at the Parks Memorial African Methodist Episcopal Church at 11547 Grover in Romulus.

Attles is author of Money Talk and The Fruit of the Spirit, and is pastor of St. Paul AME Church in Cambridge, Massachusetts. The title of his message is Healing and Deliverance.

For more information call 941-0771.

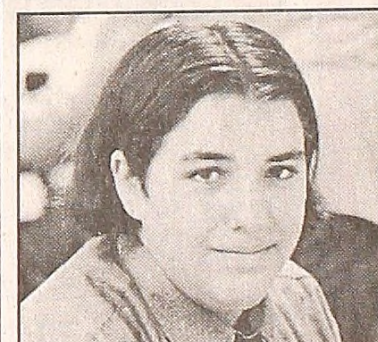

Seatbelt usage up

A community-wide effort to increase the usage of seatbelts posted substantial results during October. Before the effort began, 72% of Romulus motorists were wearing seatbelts. After the effort, that number had increased to 81%.

The effort began with the Romulus Police Explorers conducting a pre-enforcement seatbelt usage survey at selected intersections in Romulus on October 13. Observers were posted at the intersections and determined the 72% rate.

From that day until October 28, the Romulus Police Department targeted and enforced seatbelt violations on selected roadways. Their results show that 175 occupants were ticketed for not using seatbelts.

Then, on November 1, the Romulus High School Students Against Drunk Drivers conducted a post-enforcement survey. That survey indicated the 9% gain in usage.

Julian Lambert

Lambert wins seat on orchestra

Romulus High School junior, Julian Lambert has been chosen as a member of the Detroit Civic Jazz Orchestra. Lambert is a specialist in two instruments with experience in the award winning Romulus High Jazz Band as both a trombonist and pianist.

Famed trumpeter Marcus Belgrave, jazz bassoonist Rodney Whitaker and saxophonist Kenny Garrett are coaches for the orchestra.

Lambert also performs in the Romulus area often accompanying groups on the piano. He recently performed with the Romulus Youth Choir at the Community Memorial Service.

NEWS FROM THE CITY OF WAYNE

The Wayne Golden Hour Club members (above) are dressed to scare and have fun.

Golden Hour Club's 3rd centenarian receives accolades

Honors and recognition continue to pour in for Ora Lee Horne.

Horne is the Wayne Golden Hour Club's third centenarian to be honored and receive national recognition, and for a very special reason.

Ora turned 100-years-young on October 29, 2001, and that special occasion brought with it a flood of congratulatory messages and good wishes for near and afar.

Ora received many cards and congratulatory messages from a lot of people, including the President, Governor John Engler and mayor and city council," noted Nancy Wojewski-Noel, Director of Senior Services.

Along with the congratulatory letter from President George W. Bush, and resolutions, and "happy birthday" greetings from Congresswoman Lynn Rivers, Ora also received a special; Tricentennial Centenarian Certificate from The Detroit 300 Triennial Committee.

In addition to cards and good wishes from club members and friends, the Wayne Golden Hour

Ora Lee Horne

Club also presented Ora with a new $100 bill and a gorgeous bouquet of flowers.

To wrap up the birthday party activities, the Senior Activity Center presented Ora with a photo album which will contain pictures of the milestone event.

In other Golden Hour events, the members of the Golden Hour celebrated Halloween with a party. Club members were dressed in the appropriate orange and black for the occasion.

Holiday Tree Fest Festivities are set for Dec. 4

The signs of Christmas can be seen everywhere - just look around the City of Wayne and see: Santa arrived on Saturday and was that not snow falling on Tuesday?

The T-shirt has disappeared in favor of the overcoat. Kids are all bundled up. Oh, where, or where are those gloves we put away last spring?

We'll need them and much more at Goudy Park next week when, at 7 p.m., on Dec. 4, the city and the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department will host their annual Tree-Lighting ceremony.

"The festivities will include entertainment by the Ford Chorus, hot chocolate, cookies and, of course, later pictures with Santa at the Senior Activity Center following the Goudy Park program," says Jeff Rutter, assistant Director of Parks and Recreation.

In addition to the tree lighting, recreation officials pointed out that they will be kicking off a new event - The Holiday Tree Fest."

The community is invited to sponsor a pine tree in the name of someone, family or group.

Former columnist dies

He gave away $30 million to help those in need.

America lost a good friend last week. Upper-Peninsula born Percy Ross became world-famous by giving away all his money—some $30 million. Through Michigan Community Newspapers and several hundred other media outlets he fielded requests for money and gave it out to those in need.

Although I never met the 84-year-old Ross, I talked to him by phone on many occasions. He was particularly interested in our efforts in Western Wayne to help needy families at Christmas. He was always available to encourage our efforts in that regard.

But he would also call just to lament about his dwindling fortune or some of the less-kind letters he would get. You would think giving away millions of dollars would be a simple process but it wasn't. Percy had to hire a staff to read the thousands of letters and then took it on the chin many times from ungrateful readers.

For instance, an ungrateful reader from Kansas was miffed that she had written four letters to Percy asking for a $195,000 home for her mother, and had not received a response.

The reader wrote, "You claim to help people—liar! The only person you appear to be helping is yourself by publicizing your so called 'great deeds.' You're nothing but a cheap, old man who has never, ever done any good in this world except to benefit yourself."

Another woman from Minnesota wrote, "Why didn't you give me the $10,000 I requested for my wedding? Why are you so cold-hearted? You're a millionaire—why are you so stingy? We're only talking a measly $10,000."

Despite a few "bad apples," Ross was able to help thousands of people. He paid for several organ transplants and even contributed money to a community recreational center.

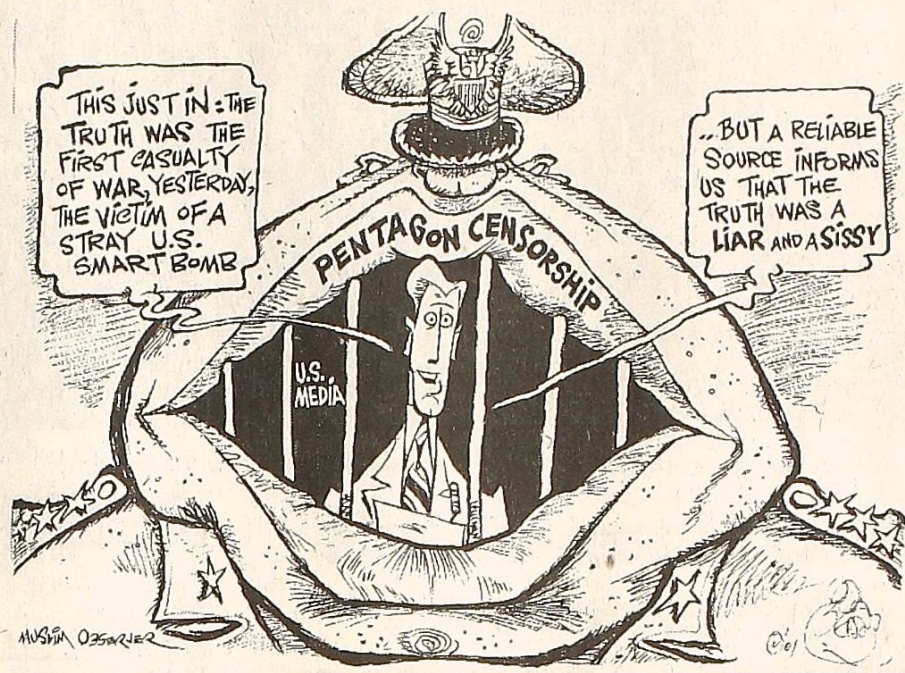

In his final column that was printed in this newspaper two years ago Ross said, "I've achieved my goal. I've given it all away. You've given me so much over the years. In many respects, I'm far richer today than when I started."

With Thanksgiving tomorrow, we all need to express our thanks for the good things life brings us. I know, I will be thanking a successful philanthropist named Percy Ross, who did more to help the people of America, than any one else I know.

Please support Rep. O'Neal's community college proposal

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

To the editor:

We are concerned about the recent election that added 1.5 mills to our property taxes to fund Wayne County Community College. Please recall that we the property owners in the Western Wayne suburbs just recently rejected this millage proposal.

This proposal passed by a slim margin driven by the Detroit vote.

We feel that we were not properly notified about this election, many in our area did not know it was on the ballot. Sumpter Township advertised this election in advance in the Arm Arbor News, a Washtenaw County paper. What does an Ann Arbor paper have to do with Belleville and Sumpter Township? Nothing!

This election was not advertised much in any western suburb.

I have been told that Sumpter Township voted many years ago to fund WCCC. Not all areas of Wayne county support WCCC; for instance, Livonia and Plymouth opted out of the district.

1.5 mills is a lot of money to support a college that serves 6,000 students.

The same criteria that voted us into the district to support WCCC can also be used to remove us from the district.

Mr. John Sullivan, Wayne County Commissioner told me that there is pending legislation to get the Western suburbs out of the district that funds WCCC. Downriver Representative Bill O'Neal is heading up a recount of the votes of this last election.

I urge you to call Representative Bruce Patterson and let him know how you feel about this legislation and if you want it to pass and to contact Mr. Bill O'Neal's office to let him know how you feel about this almost secret election and support the recount effort. Mr. Patterson's phone is 517-373-2575 and Mr. O'Neal's, 313-389-2255.

If you live in Wayne, Romulus, and Westland or wherever, I urge you to call your local representative about this issue.

If this legislation passes, we would need to have a petition with the names of 500 registered voters to place it on the ballot for the next elections. If it passed, we, the property owners, would be exempt from paying taxes to WCCC the following year.

history to repeat itself.

If our nation is concerned with finding enemies of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, then the same aggressive tactics should be applied to applying a profile for high school shooters, which, based on events, are white male teenagers. The irony of all of this is the right thing can be done. There is no doubt that those who are responsible for terrorism and their followers should be punished, it would be a mockery to democracy not to. Lives were lost on Sept. 11, and the worst crime against humanity possible occurred. Despite our losses, pointing fingers will solve nothing. Americans have treated Muslim Americans bad, with cartoons (Aladdin) and the media depicting them as a savage people, thirsty for war and hatred. It will not be politicians who break this cycle, or the military, but citizens with respect to one another as human beings.

Park leads to MLK Day

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

Homeowners in Canton's ritzy west-side subs rejoiced when the Canton Township Board withdrew a proposal for a $8-million water park on a 15-acre parcel at Ford and Ridge roads.

Township Supervisor Tom Yack presented the proposal to get back some of the $500,000-plus a year that township residents fork over to Wayne County for recreation.

But at two recent public hearings, west-side homeowners repeated dissed the proposal. In retrospect, the hearings were unnecessary. All Yack had to do was read the unsigned flier that drew nearby homeowners to the hearing.

It said: "The Canton board is planning to destroy the value of your home! Do you want the rest of Wayne County clogging your roads, cruising your neighborhood, trashing your community or making so much noise you can't stand to be in your own back yard while your tax dollars pay for it all?"

But Yack held the hearing, heard the complaints, discounted pro-water-park statements from relatives of his staff, and withdrew the proposal.

"I believe that is critical that a project of this type needs to have wide support in the community to ensure its success," he said.

Clean withdrawal? No way, I say. There will be a price to pay for spurning the county park, since the politically correct crowd is already blaming the rejection on west-side neighbors' fears of outsiders coming to Canton's west-side.

In order to deflect the politically correct inquisition and ease a little guilt, I predict that the township will reverse itself and make Martin Luther King Jr. Day a township holiday, honoring King above Christopher Columbus, George Washington, and Abraham Lincoln, and making him the first person since Jesus to have a public holiday where township employees will get the full day off, costing the township $40,000 in employee productivity.

Last year, 300 people celebrated King Day last year at Geneva Presbyterian Church, more than celebrated Columbus Day this year.

And don't worry about township employees having too much fun on their new day off. If the politically correct crowd gets their way, I predict that township workers will also have to undergo "diversity" training for the rest of their careers.

Thanksgiving feels profound

By KAREN MEIER
MCN Staff Writer

Happy Thanksgiving everyone! What a wonderful, beautiful celebration we wrap ourselves in today! Covering ourselves in this holiday, pulling tight around us the warm, soft blanket of things familiar and things lovely and richly textured — our families, harvest food, prayer, laughter, traditions.

Over the last two and a half months, since that awful Sept. 11 morning, so much has changed here in the United States. In the world too for that matter. But today, Thanksgiving, in America, we are proving to ourselves that the warm, soft blanket we've always known and cherished has not disappeared; not at all, it is still enveloping us. That hasn't changed, that wonderfully warm and soft blanket, except for maybe one thing about it — the warmth and softness of it on this 2001 Thanksgiving is more noticed, more profound, more felt today than we've ever known before.

We really do have so incredibly, so, so incredibly much to be thankful for. And we all know it. We're all one on this. From sea to shining sea.

We all feel it. We are grateful for the small things, we are grateful for the big things. We are grateful for the invisible things. We shout our gratitude, we sing it, we pray it, we shake each other's hands, we applaud.

We've been a noisy bunch these past weeks and we're a noisy bunch today. Being grateful, being free, being alive this day.

Earlier this Thanksgiving week my family was splintered off in a few directions, some in this state, some in that - for this, that and the other reason. But on this noisy, grateful day, we're all back together - for one reason. A good reason. The best reason — Thanksgiving. We're giving thanks to God today, to each other, to heroes, and to long ago Pilgrims and Indians, and so many, so much more. There's no struggle to come up with "something we're thankful for" in our family prayer circle around the Thanksgiving table today.

Once again, Happy Thanksgiving and may God bless you and keep you all close and warm. And those who are traveling, may you have a safe journey back home again.

Who should we give thanks to?

Each year the United States observes a national day of thanksgiving as proclaimed by the president to continue a tradition that began with the early settlers of the country. But what are we thankful for and to whom do we direct our thanks?

The first Thanksgiving we are told was observed by the Pilgrims who had been helped by native Indians to survive their first winter in their new homeland. While the peaceful and friendly natives received the well-earned gratitude of the settlers, the Pilgrims' praise and thanks were directed to God. They believed it was God that had arranged the circumstances that resulted in their survival.

Today, for many, God will still be the recipient of their praise and thanks. Some will go to church to express themselves. Others will do the same at home with relatives gathered for the occasion; many traveling long distances to be with loved ones.

Medium Rare

To some, however, all Thanksgiving means is a couple of days off work (with pay). Who will they thank, their employer? The government? Their union? Surely there is something for which all living in America can thank God.

We live in the best country (with all of its many faults) in the world. Every year, thousands of people risk their lives (and some lose them) just to come to America to share in what too many Americans take for granted.

Our Declaration of Independence states in part, "WE hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness."

Who then should we thank for the blessings of liberty that we enjoy? Is it not our Creator, from whence they came?

In the preamble to the U.S. Constitution, one reason for its adoption is to "secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our posterity." Can these blessings be taken away? The word "unalienable" does not mean safe from attack.

Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence said, "The price of liberty is eternal vigilance."

As we gather today to give thanks for our blessings, let us also resolve to be vigilant so as to pass those blessings on to our posterity.

SOUND OFF EXTRA

Read US Constitution before calling Sound Off about free speech

I beg to differ with the person who complained about so-called hecklers disrupting Westland City Council meetings with their so-called negativity.

The so-called hecklers are citizens exercising their constitutional right to make statements and ask questions. I've read the US Constitution. It gives the freedom of speech to citizens. Nowhere does it say anything about hecklers or negativity.

Anybody that does not understand how our government works should read the US Constitution before calling Sound Off.

Wayne Mayor-elect Al Haidous won a popularity contest

The most qualified man was not elected mayor Wayne. The best man was Bob Dickerson. Al Haidous won a popularity contest. That's all. Al Haidous has two years to prove himself.

'Recall bunch' would stop threatening meeting speakers

It would really be nice if the recall bunch would stop threatening people who speak out at Westland City Council meetings. I don't think that it's very nice for them to do that. [Imperfect manners are not threats — Ed.]

The recall bunch, Brenda

Gracin and all, never say anything about Mayor Thomas anymore. They used to. I was just wondering why they don't. It's rather unusual, they talk about everybody else.

American Muslims treated with a total lack of disrespect

The United States of America have treated American Muslims with a total lack of disrespect. Instead of singling out those responsible for New York City and Washington DC, our police officers and law enforcement are targeting law-abiding citizens.

The treatment of our fellow citizens should be a top priority. The events that took place in our country were nothing short of a tragedy, an unexplainable fit of rage from madmen whose only voice is through violence. This does not, however, place blame on all Muslims, I should quickly point out. These men who committed this sick act are no more Muslim than Timothy McVeigh is Christian.

From reports around the country almost daily, stories arise of more and more hatred directed towards Muslim Americans and those who look like them. The Indian people who follow the religion Sikh are every bit as scared as Arabic people in this country, as their religion requires them to wear turbans and grow beards, a vision many scared Americans associate with terrorism.

Despite speeches from president George Bush and New York mayor Rudolph Guliani for tolerance, this has done little in the grand scheme of things. Americans need someone to blame, and anyone who does not look, talk or dress like them are the easiest target.

In Chicago, Illinois, for example, the state legislature re-emphasized the Hate Crime Laws after mosques, the place of worship for Muslims were harassed by racist and prejudiced Americans who felt they were doing their part fighting the enemy. The idea that hardworking men and women in America must now walk in public places, such as airports, and be subject to questioning and searching by local enforcement officers because they looked like suspects is sickening and immoral.

How ironic is it that our country, after years of being viewed as a model of being tolerant for different races and cultures, has egg on its face? During World War II, after the bombing of Pearl Harbor, president Franklin Roosevelt signed a law that allowed all Japanese to be moved to internment camps, away from their homes and businesses. The irony, of course, is many of these people were in fact born in this country.

This law, of course, was Japanese in name only. All Asians suffered, and many Chinese and Koreans got so scared they started putting signs on their doors and windows that said I am not Japanese. How foolish it would be for

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

We loved League's Halloween

To the editor:

First, except for the cigarette smoke, Curt and I loved the Halloween dance at the Wayne-Ford Civic League. A special "hello" to Michael Strebbling, our Jaycees server, who was super-friendly and very helpful at the event. It was great, seeing so many who liked to dance. For hours. The mostly techno music, mixed also with "Monster Mash" Halloween music, the cool D.J., the artificial fog, and cemetery decorations were outstanding. We only yielded the dance floor once for the line dancers. Oh, yeh, the free buffet was nice, after working up a ravenous appetite.

First-place costumer winner went to a lady dressed up like a giant red, white, and blue, flaglike patterned hand, with the middle two fingers spread apart to form a "V" or "Victory" sign. Second-place went to another woman donning giant, homemade, multi-colored, butterfly wings. Long, silver-colored eyelashes completed the ensemble. Third-place was awarded to a "flasher" in a long trench coat, whose special effects cannot be mentioned in this column. Suffice it to say that I blushed. A good time was had by all.

However, we were extremely disappointed that Westland has zero haunted house attractions for adults. Shame on Parks and Recreation for having done nothing for adults.

We do hope that we, at least, see Jesus in the Christmas, or Christ Mass, Parade. It IS, after all, a celebration of Christ, not the celebration of the Winter Solstice.

If there is to be a teddy bear parade or dancing candy canes, reindeer or whatever, then call it a Santa Claus parade or a Winter Festival Parade. But if it is to be called a Christmas parade, then Jesus had better be on a float, as is in some other parades.

We also hope to see adults, acting as adults, in the parade. However, in a Westland parade, we doubt that that will actually be the case. We also hope to see talent, sparkle, dazzle, glitz, and beauty in the parade, as well.

Good things happening at WCCC

To the editor:

It is with an attitude to building bridges that I write this letter, for I understand the feelings of the citizens of Western Wayne County regarding the millage that was passed earlier this week.

Clearly, we could have done a better job in the Western part of the county to inform citizens about the progress we have made at the Western Campus and about funding issues related to the millage, but hindsight is always 20/20.

Many good things have been occurring at the Western Campus. Under the leadership of the Chancellor, Dr. Curtis L. Ivery, both program and course offerings have expanded. Enrollment at the Western Campus has nearly tripled in the last two years. Two new computer labs have been equipped, and the computers in the library now connect students to the resources available through the Internet.

The nursing program has expanded. Now students can take all their prerequisite courses as well as all their nursing classes at the Western Campus.

In the vocational areas, the Western Campus offers both Heavy Equipment Maintenance and Heating, Ventilating, and Air Conditioning. Next semester the Architectural and Construction Technology Program will be added.

In the field of natural resources, we have three new programs. Environmental Health and Safety Technology, Environmental and Natural Resources, and Agriscience (Horticulture).

Additionally, the Western Campus also offers a full compliment of liberal arts transfer courses, which are fully accredited with the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association and thus transferable to four year colleges and universities.

The Western Campus also offers Workforce and Economic Development classes and partnerships with business. For example, we are just beginning A+ Certification and Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer (MCSE) in collaboration with Tech Corporation and an Emergency Response to Terrorism class for Fire Department Officers.

The Western Campus also has partnerships with local public schools offering Heating, Ventilating, and Air Conditioning, Heavy Equipment Maintenance, and Medical First Responder.

The Western Campus also offers a variety of enrichment offerings through Community Education in areas such as crafts, hobbies, physical fitness, and computer skills.

Just this past week the Western Campus celebrated the opening of a Women's Resource Center which is design to provide support, counseling, and information for women students struggling with many complex issue that often undermine their academic success.

I invite the citizens to experience the Western Campus for themselves. Individuals, school groups, senior groups and church groups are welcome to use the facility. Please stop by and take a tour of the facility and see what we have to offer the community.

Sincerely,
Dr. Marjorie A. Oliver
Western WCCC Provost

To Christian Penpals:

I would like to correspond with all brothers and sisters.

It's nice to hear from people who have such a positive attitude in his calling. I'm reaching for everything I can get to help me through this incarceration. I've always been a true believer in Christ. In God's way everything happens for a reason, a purpose. Maybe its just one of his calling cards to have us ask for him and ask forgiveness. I need your help and support.

Believe it, Inkster will be back

Benedictine, best in State, ends Vikings streak at 41

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

After 41 consecutive victories and two consecutive conference basketball titles, Inkster High and Coach Dave Mann have finally tasted the bitter pill of defeat.

And it was handed to the Viking coach and his team by none other than Detroit Benedictine where some of Mann's former players decided to attend school after leaving Bishop Borgess.

Mann's Vikings clashed with Detroit Benedictine Tuesday night in the semifinal round of the Class C district playoffs last week at Livonia Clarenceville and came out on the shortend of a 65-49 decision. The loss, the Vikings' first under their sophomore coach, ended a remarkable season. Inkster had won 21 straight this season and 20 last year to run its winning streak to a record 41 straight before the Ravens snapped it forever more.

But don't shed tears for the Vikings, the Inkster coach said. He'll have all of his Vikings back—none of the 13 players on the 2001 roster are seniors.

"In order to beat them," said Mann referring to the Benedictine game, "we had to play a perfect game and they had to be off their game. It didn't happen."

Ironically, four members of the Benedictine team were members of Mann's team three years ago at Bishop Borgess. The Ravens' star, whom Mann considers the "best point guard in the game this year," led the Ravens against her former coach.

Inkster's Tiffany Smith (32) shifts into fast-break gear as she speeds downcourt against Detroit Benedictine in the semifinal round of the Class C district playoffs staged before a standing room only crowd at Livonia Clarenceville. Despite their outstanding efforts, Smith and the Vikings fell to the No. 1 ranked team in the state, 65-49, and were eliminated from the playoffs. Photo by Carl Brown

"Her dominating leadership on the floor was crucial in this game," said Mann. "You know, at one point of the game when I was shouting instructions to my team, she (Young) looked over at me and wondered if I was telling her what to do."

Behind balanced scoring and Young's leadership, the Ravens jumped to a 16-9 lead and never fell behind.

The Detroiters held on, 30-19, at the half and, although the Vikings closed within eight twice in the third quarter, they never really could overcome the deficit. The Ravens led by as much as 15 points, 48-33, at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Benedictine, ranked No. 1 in the state throughout most of the year, put three players in double figures. Joei Clyburn finished with a team high 16 points, while teammates Qayatta Hines added 15 and Young tossed in 12. Young, committed to the University of Toledo after her high school career ends, also served up a dozen assists.

Inkster produced the top individual scorer in the game. That honor went to Laelah Qawee. The 5-8 junior forward drilled 21 points. The Vikings had a pair of six-shooters in Carena Easley and Tiffany Smith.

The officials didn't come under fire, either, for this one.

"I felt it was a well officiated game," said Mann afterward.

The game could have been closer if the Vikings had been more diligent at the free throw line where they capitalized on five of 17 of their opportunities. The Ravens didn't fare much better as they sank two of 14.

Benedictine went on to beat Southfield Christian by 15 for the championship. Christian qualified for the title game by beating Clarenceville, 51-21.

...But Vikings nail Bishop Borgess

With four players scoring four points each in the first period, Inkster roared into the Class C District Playoffs last week by trouncing Bishop Borgess, 67-35, in the first-round of the district playoffs. The victory qualified Coach Dave Mann's Vikings to meet the state's No. 1 Class C team, Benedictine, in the semifinal round of the playoffs at Livonia Clarenceville.

Inkster's Evelyn Heath, Brittany Evans, Carena Easley and

Khadigrian Murphy each scored four points in the opening period to lift the Vikings to a commanding 16-4 lead. But Borgess came back and cut the Vikings' advantage to nine at half, 26-18, and that became a concern for the Vikings.

Whatever Mann told his team at the break obviously worked. Inkster came back and outscored their opponents 16-4 to break away by 20. The Vikings led 42-22 at the end of the third, which permitted Mann to indiscriminately substitute during the final quarter.

Borgess has in its lineup some of the players who were left behind when Mann decided to leave the AD's job at the Dearborn Heights' high school for his present position at Inkster High.

"I felt we got off to a good start against them (Borgess)," said Mann, "but then we allowed them back into the game. Our kids came back and took control of the game in the second half, and I was really pleased with that."

The Vikings got balanced scoring out of their lineup. Easley's 15 topped the field. Evans, Young and Smith all checked in with 12 points each.

The victory stretched the Vikings' winning streak to 41, and was the longest high school winning streak in the state at the time.

However, on Tuesday, Mann and the Vikings ran up against Detroit Benedictine (See related story on this page) and fell, 65-49 and lost.

Under the watchful eyes of Inkster's Khadigrian Murphy (33), Benedictine's Ashley Gibson (10) makes her move. Gibson and the Ravens had the right moves as they slashed Inkster's 41-game winning streak in the district semis, and advanced to the finals where they won the district title by beating a feeble Southfield Christian team. All-Area football team next week

Because some of the positions remain up for grabs, the Michigan Community Newspapers' Sports Staff is delaying the publication of the 2001 All-Area Football Team and its selection of the Coach of the Year until next week.

"When you look at the number of quality players and the stats of these candidates we have to select from, the task becomes a real challenge," said Tom Mooradian, senior MCN staff writer. "To ensure that each of the candidates and their qualifications are examined thoroughly, it would be best to delay the naming of the lineup a week."

In its 34th consecutive year, the All-Area is comprised of players from local high schools: Belleville, Romulus, Westland John Glenn, Wayne Memorial, Plymouth-Canton and Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

The MCN's staff selects an offensive and defensive team. The teams are picked in cooperation with the high school coaches.

However, the Coach of the Year is selected solely by the MCN staff.

Belleville, Inkster dominate All-Mega Red

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Inkster, the newly-crowned Mega Conference, Red Division hoops champ, and Belleville, a three-time Mega-Red champ and this year's runner-up, dominate the all-division girls' basketball team.

Inkster placed two players, while Belleville had three on the mythical roster which is selected annually by the coaches in the conference.

One forward - Laelah Qawee, a 5-8 junior, was named to the team by the coaches.

Qawee's teammate, 5-3 junior guard Brittany Evans, also represents the Mega-Gold champions who won an unprecedented 21 games before losing to top-ranked Class C power, Detroit Benedictine, in the semifinals of the district playoffs.

Belleville, with a 10-2 division and a 17-3 overall mark, placed 5-5 senior guard Crystal Steward; 6-0, senior center Courtney Ivan, and 5-8 junior guard Amantha Combs on the team, while third place finishing Monroe had Kathie Little, a 5-9 senior guard on the team.

Mega-Red coaches also drafted two Trenton standouts: Amy Nowaske, a 6-0, senior center, and Trisha Roberts, a 5-5, senior guard.

Rounding out the 2001 all-division team are Wyandotte Roosevelt's Tina Trombley, a 6-0 senior center, and Sarah Moore, a 6-1, junior guard.

The coaches also awarded 16 players Honorable Mention.

The 16 include: Khadigrian Murphy (Inkster), Ashley Schatzle (Monroe), Erin Lesko (Trenton), Keisha Young (Inkster), Carena Easley (Inkster), Tiffany Smith (Inkster), Evelyn Heath (Inkster), Kelly Howse (Belleville), Alyssa Montalvo (Belleville), Kaci Sagutis (Monroe), Amanda Lathan (Monroe), Pam Zywioc (Dearborn), Louanne Normand (Wyandotte), Tiana Johnson (Taylor Truman), and Erin Parrish (Taylor Truman).

Belleville, Salem win district titles

Although they went their separate ways and may yet meet in the future on the road to the state finals, the first leg of the trip to Mt. Pleasant was an emotional one for Belleville and Plymouth-Salem which emerged last week with Class A District Basketball Championships.

Central Michigan University traditionally is the host for the Michigan High School Athletic Association's girls' state basketball championships.

The state finals are scheduled for December.

The pre-district tournament favored Tigers played the role as the defending champs. They crushed Garden City by 14 points to claim their fourth consecutive district title, 49-35, behind and outstanding effort of All-Mega-Red Division player, senior Crystal Steward, who scored a game high 19 points.

Steward, a 5-5 senior guard who is deadly from three-point range, was merciless against a GC defense that knew it had to stop her in order to win.

It didn't happen Friday night as the defending district champs took charge, and dispelled any GC thoughts of an upset early.

Coach Kevin Edwards' ball club, winners of 20 of their 23 games this season, will advance to the state regionals scheduled to begin on Monday.

Against Garden City, the Tigers also received an outstanding performance from senior center Courtney Ivan who tossed in 12 points and helped control the boards with 10 rebounds.

Romulus golfer cards a first

Romulus High's Roger Chapman brought the curtains down on an exceptional high school golf career.

Earlier this month, the 17-year-old senior carded a first when he surfaced with the Mega Conference, Gold Division's individual championship. Thus, Chapman was the first golfer in the school's history to win a conference golf title.

Chapman finished the season with a 39.4 stroke average for nine holes and defeated his closest rival from Willow Run by one point under the conference's complex point-scoring system.

The Mega Conference point system awards points for each match based on an individual's match standing, then combines these points with the league meet individual standing.

Chapman managed to build up a significant lead in the dual match season and his third-place finish in the league clinched the championship.

Champion's league meet score was a 79. He followed this with a 77 at the regional golf tournament and narrowly missed qualifying for the state finals by two strokes. The state championship was staged in East Lansing.

The coaching staff and his teammates congratulated the conference champ for his achievements this season.

Chapman also is an outstanding baseball player.

When it comes to swinging a baseball bat or a golf club, Roger Chapman displays championship style. Chapman (above) became the first Romulus High golfer to win a Mega Conference, Gold Division golf title.

Minister seeks ‘a day of prayer’
He says there is a dire need to calm fears

A prominent Inkster minister urged Mayor Hilliard Hampton, Jr. and city council members Wednesday night to set aside a day for prayer “during these times of tragedy.”

The Rev. Howard Bradford, an Evangelist minister, said that the nightmare of Sept. 11 remains on the minds of many who can’t shake the horror and the devastation that was caused by the terrorists’ attacks on America.

“And there is an extreme need to focus on the citizens of Inkster who share the grief and need guidance during these times of despair and uncertainty,” Bradford said.

Bradford proposed that the Inkster Recreation Complex be opened to any and all who have problems coping with the disaster of Sept. 11.

“We would like to have a Community Wide Awareness Council Study,” Bradford continued. “The studies would focus on helping and answering questions on what is happening in America in the wake of the attacks.”

Bradford pointed out that the anthrax scare has compounded the nation’s concerns and “we must bring these issues to the front-burner and discuss them in an open forum so that people can understand that we all have these concerns and are looking for solutions.”

However, the minister’s proposed dates for the program were in conflict with other events at the Booker T. Dozier Community Complex,. Also, Ron Wolkowicz, parks and recreation director, pointed out to mayor and council that the Recreation Commission had not been able to review Bradford’s proposal. Protocol calls for the commissioners to review the proposal, then sent it to mayor and council with their recommendation before it came to council for action.

Council asked Wolkowicz to set up a meeting between Bradford and the commissioners so that they (council) could get the commission’s input.

Recreation plans to hold community concert

The Inkster Parks and Recreation Department is seeking groups who are interested in participating in the 2002 Community Spring Concert.

George Thompson, Jr., program chairperson, said that any and all civic and local organizations and groups who are interested in participating or “becoming a partner in staging the 2002 community concert” are invited to attend a meeting that is scheduled for 7 p.m. Dec. 11, at the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Complex.

The Community Complex is located at 2025 Middlebelt Road, about a quarter-mile north of Michigan Avenue.

The concert is one of the more popular events of the spring schedule.

Some 10 local organizations that have committed their members and resources to make the concert a successful one.

The organizations include: Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Gamma Phi Delta Sorority, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Top Ladies of Distinction, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, The Optimist Club of Inkster, the Khamalaw White Foundation, Inkster Weed & Seed, and the New Era Men’s Club.

Organizations that wish further information are urged to contact George Thompson, Jr., at 734-728-7530.
